Special Message.

GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY:

Article 5th of the Constitution of the State provides that the Governor shall from time to time, give to the Legislative Assembly information touching the condition of the State, and recommending such measures as he shall judge to be expedient. In compliance with that provision I respectfully submit the following suggestions:

CODE.

A transition from a Territorial to a State organization always requires a change of laws adapting them to the new state of things.—Oregon had been an organized Territory for ten years. The members of the last Legislature found that the laws were embraced in a number of volumes, and that the bound volumes, including the "practice act," was out of print, and could not be purchased at any place; hence the Legislature wisely appointed a committee to collect and revise the laws. Owing to the absence of Hon. Amory Holbrook to the Atlantic States, the other members of the committee selected Hon. M. P. Deady to assist them. The temporary absence and sickness of other members of the committee has caused most of the labor to fall on Judge Deady.

Their report is herewith submitted, and I earnestly recommend its passage without amendments, unless the same are well considered so as not to destroy the harmony of one part with another.

The report is not as full as might have been desired, but it embodies a complete code of practice in all our courts, and many general provisions. I trust the Legislature will connect with it some other necessary laws and order it printed in permanent form. But it may be well to take into consideration the propriety of publishing the code and such other laws as are passed this session, in pamphlet form, and of retaining the committee or appointing a new one, to make further report and perfect this. When the statutes are published in a bound volume, it will probably be a number of years before they will be revised and published again, which is an additional reason why they should now be prepared with great care.

The resolution appointing the code committee made no provision for payment for their labors. I therefore respectfully recommend the passage of an act requiring the Secretary of State to audit and draw warrants on the State Treasurer for their labors at the rate of $—— per day, upon the sworn statement of each member of the committee for the actual time employed.

PENITENTIARY.

The Penitentiary has been a subject of considerable legislation and some experiment. Its location is an unfortunate one, as part of it is located on block No. 106 in the city of Portland, upon the property of Stephen Coffin. A part of it is situated on block No. 107, which purports to have been conveyed for the purpose of a site for the Penitentiary. The balance of the building is situated in the street, between said blocks, to which the State has not a shadow of title. Block No. 107 covers a deep gulch, fifty or more feet deep, so that it is impracticable to improve it, as the immediate wants of the Penitentiary demand.

Upon this point the Committee appointed by the last Legislature reported "All the lands in the vicinity of the penitentiary belonging to the State is so broken and rough that the amount required to level and prepare the ground for improvement and occupancy is equal to the expense of erecting and completing new buildings and improvements in almost any other locality." If the situation of the land was otherwise, one block two hundred feet square is entirely too small for penitentiary purposes. In this State, where land is cheap, five acres or more should be selected and secured. By the correspondence herewith submitted, it will be seen that Stephen Coffin, the owner of block No. 106, upon which a part of the penitentiary is situated, is unwilling to sell the land to the State. A high, substantial wall should enclose the penitentiary, work shops, &c., which cannot be built on the present site, if the Street Commissioner of Portland, or owners of private property should object to it.

I therefore respectfully recommend that as early as practicable, the location of the Penitentiary be changed to some accessible point where title to enough land can be secured possessing as many natural advantages for such an institution as possible. And that the present Penitentiary property or that part of it which would be impracticable to remove, be sold, and the proceeds be applied in building a Penitentiary at a more proper and convenient point. If the seat of government was permanently located, I should recommend its establishment at such point, together with all other State institutions, that they might be more directly under the supervision of the State officers, and that their workings and management might be within the view of each member of the Legislature.

In new States the real or fancied interests of some town is too frequently made to influence legislation in locating State Institutions.

By the provisions of the Act of June 2d, 1859, the Penitentiary was leased to Robert Newell and L. N. English for five years from the fourth day of June, 1859. The above lessees sublet the same to Laverne Besser, who now has charge of the institution and convicts. There are now twenty-five convicts in the Penitentiary. Twelve persons have been pardoned by the Governor since the last session of the Legislature. The terms for which five were sentenced expired, and they have been discharged. Twenty five have escaped.

It is the general custom of the Lessee to work most of the convicts outside of the Penitentiary within the city limits, in some mills, brick yards, and at grading streets, digging ditches, sewers, &c. While this system has been a pecuniary benefit to the State, it has not answered the ends for which the institution was established. Those who need punishment most, the most desperate, are the first to escape.

Again, the working of convicts around the city brings them in competition with and degrades the free honest laborers of Portland. It is true, that if convicts work, as they ought to, they will come in competition with labor somewhere, but that competition should, at least, be equal all over the State, and not borne by a single class of laborers in one town. If workshops are built within walls, and convicts kept at some mechanical business, their competition will be generally with the Atlantic States, with an advantage of freights, commissions and interest of money, for what they manufacture, in favor of this State.

I therefore respectfully recommend that the system of working convicts away from the prison or prison grounds, be prohibited.

As the present lease expires some three months before the next session of the Legislature, some provision ought to be made, at all events, directing the management of the institution thereafter.

If five acres of ground was selected at some proper place for making brick, temporary log buildings could be built as secure as the present penitentiary, and thereafter the convicts could make brick and build a substantial Penitentiary, work shops, and a wall to enclose the same. Thereafter the convicts might be employed in making brick for other State buildings now needed, or they could then profitably be employed in manufacturing.

Herewith I submit the report of L. Besser, sub-lessee of the Penitentiary.

INSANE.

Owing in part to the anxieties and disappointments of those who come to this country to become quickly rich, and their habits of life, there is a very large number of insane persons in this State in proportion to its population.

This unfortunate class of our citizens are entitled to our sympathies and care. It is the duty of the State to make permanent provisions for their care and medical treatment, and also for the blind and deaf as soon as the wealth and condition of the country will permit. At an early day, while lands are cheap, good locations should be selected upon which asylums can be built by convict labor or otherwise as the wisdom of the Legislature may direct. Until this can be done, some temporary arrangement at State or county expense can doubtless be made with Drs. Hawthorne and Loryea for taking care of the insane.

In view of an enlightened and humane policy, worthy of their high standing in the medical profession, they have, at considerable expense, erected in East Portland, a private asylum, which is quite creditable to themselves and the State. Every convenience for the safety, care and comfort of patients which the new state of the country permits, appears to be there provided.

AGRICULTURE.

The last Congress has manifested a disposition to promote industrial pursuits and elevate the standard of labor in the nation. I respectfully call your attention to the law establishing "The United States Department of Agriculture," and also Agricultural Colleges. The general designs of the former are to acquire and diffuse among the people of the United States useful information on subjects of agriculture, in the most general and comprehensive sense of that word, and to procure, propagate and distribute among the people new and valuable seeds and plants.

For several years efforts have been made to obtain from Congress donations of public lands, the avails of which should be applied for the endowment of an Agricultural College in each State of the Union. At the last session of Congress, these efforts were successful. An act was passed granting to every State an amount of public land to be apportioned to each State in quantity equal to thirty thousand acres for each Senator and Representative in Congress to which the States are respectively entitled by the apportionment of 1860; provided that no mineral lands shall be selected or purchased under the provisions of the act. When the State selects its lands they will be under the control of the State and managed at its expense until the sale. All moneys realized under the law for lands are required to be invested in stocks of the United States or of the State, which yields five per cent, or more interest per annum; and the money so invested must remain a permanent fund, the interest of which shall be inviolably appropriated by each State which claims the benefit of the act for the endowment, support and maintenance of at least one College, where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military science, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts in such manner as the Legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life.

The proposition of the Government, if accepted and properly carried out, will doubtless be of incalculable benefit to Oregon.—States to be entitled to the lands must accept the proposition within two years from the approval of the act by the President. That time will expire before the next regular session of the Legislature in Oregon, hence the necessity for immediate action.

COUNTIES.

The rich and extensive gold mines recently discovered in the Eastern part of the State, have attracted a large population in the vicinity of John Day, Burnt and Powder rivers. In prospecting for gold, farming lands have been found on the tributaries of those rivers of greater extent than had been supposed before to exist in those regions. I am informed that considerable portions of said lands have already been taken and occupied by actual settlers.

This state of facts, with every reason to believe that there will be other discoveries and more extensive settlements before the Legislature meets again, seems to require that there should be organized two or more counties. In the fourth judicial district, including Wasco county, there is already more court business than can be disposed of by one judge, and I consider it impracticable and unjust to require the judges of the other districts to perform more labor than they now do, particularly with the small salary which they now receive. I therefore respectfully recommend that if new counties are organized, that a new judicial district be erected, including such counties and Wasco county.

CORPORATIONS.

During the last session of the Legislature a number of petitions were presented for charters for bridge and road companies. Under the Constitution of the State, no special privileges can be granted. Companies must be organized under general laws.

In some portions of the State, roads are easily made, and in other, good roads can never be made except by private enterprise, without inflicting heavy burdens on the few persons living in the vicinity of them. The same may be substantially said of bridges.

There is no injustice in requiring those [illegible] much of the money [illegible] being [illegible] [illegible] manufacturing establishments, bridges and road companies required for a development [illegible] the resources of the State.

SCHOOLS.

By the Constitution the Governor of the State is made ex officio Superintendent of Public Instruction. There is no law requiring the County Superintendents to report to the Governor the number of scholars or the condition of the school funds in their respective counties.

The county superintendents are the only persons authorized to grant certificates to teachers, and there is no person to whom teachers can appeal in case the superintendents abuse their power in refusing certificates. I have known instances where great injustice has been done to teachers, and some person ought to be empowered to grant State certificates to prevent such abuses, and to accommodate such teachers as are really qualified to teach a common school in any part of the State.

ESCHEATS.

Finlee Caruthers, late of Portland, died, it is supposed, without heirs, leaving real estate to the value of some forty thousand dollars. If so, his property escheats to the State, and I therefore respectfully recommend that a law be passed providing for the selection of an Attorney General of the State, whose duty it shall be to represent the State in all such cases. Or, that a suitable person be appointed in this case to preserve the rights of the State in the premises.

MILITIA.

The late Governor of this State, in his message of September 25th, 1860, very properly said: "There is no State or Territory belonging to the American Union in which a well trained militia is more likely to be needed than in Oregon."

It is notorious that we are surrounded on all sides by a treacherous and warlike race of Indians, some of whom have been in a state of open hostility during the past summer; and it is as well known that in the event of the United States becoming involved in a war with any of the great powers of the civilized world, Oregon would be among the first to suffer from a descent upon her shores of a well disciplined soldiery. I see no reason to change that recommendation. In fact there is more danger of internal commotions, foreign war and trouble with our Indians in the Eastern part of the State, now than then.

I cannot therefore too strongly urge upon you the importance of an immediate organization of an efficient military system for our State.

VOTING.

The purity of the ballot box is indispensable to the safety of a Republican government. A person who has no sympathy with our government ought not to vote. As the law now is, when the vote of a person is challenged before he can vote, he must swear that he is twenty one years of age, that he is a citizen of the United States, and has resided six months in the State, and fifteen days in the county, next preceding the election, and that he has not voted at this election.

I respectfully recommend that the law be amended so as to also require persons whose votes are challenged to take an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Oregon before they shall be allowed to vote at any election. And that no person be allowed to vote at any election authorized by law, who has not paid all taxes assessed and due against him at the time he offers to vote.

The unanimity and energy which has marked your labors thus far, leads me to believe that, under Divine aid, you will have a useful session. And if by your wisdom and vigilance and that of the State officers, that peace and prosperity which now surrounds us shall be continued, a grateful constituency will remember you, while all will have abundant reason to be grateful to Almighty God.

ADDISON C. GIBBS.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Salem, Oregon, Sept 15, 1862.

MORE GOLD MINES.—The fact is every day being established that gold exists through all the mountain ranges in the upper country. Mr. Charles Hayne, who has been, with a small party, spending the summer on the Big Blackfoot river, and the tributaries of the Pend d'Oreille, Kootenai and Flathead rivers, informs us that he prospected these streams and found satisfactory evidence of the existence of paying gold mines upon all of them. On a tributary of the Blackfoot, north of Lewis and Clark's Pass, they got prospects which would indicate that miners could make from $25 to $50 per day. They also found excellent prospects on a stream which flows northward, from the same range of mountains, into Flathead Lake. These rivers take their rise nearly due east of the trading post on a tributary of the Flathead river and about forty miles southeast of the Flathead Lake.

Mr. H. and party left Colville in May last. Their prospecting was confined exclusively to the river bars. On the heads of the Spokane and Coeur d'Alene rivers they found plenty of the "California miners' pride"—quartz and slate rock. They also obtained better prospects on these rivers than they could get in the Colville mines. The country on the head of the Coeur d'Alene river is quite as favorable for rich gold deposits as that to the eastward, but on the principle that they had not got far enough from home, the company did not tarry long to prospect. Mr. H. intends to return to that country next spring, for the purpose of mining, and predicts that a gold field will be developed there which will be hundreds of miles in extent and equal in richness to any yet discovered north of California.—Walla Walla Statesman.

AMUSEMENTS.—We are in receipt of a complimentary ticket to attend a Concert to be given on Friday evening next by the Aurora Brass Band, under the leadership of Mr. Frederick Keil. The concert is to come off at the Turn Verein Hall, and is to close with a ball and supper.

DENNISON'S OPERA HOUSE was again well visited last night. The play of the Virginia Mummy elicited much applause.

MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL.—This being the regular meeting night of the Common Council, we hope to see a full Board present. Much important business is now before them, and it is to be hoped that the members will at least do something to-night with the Police Ordinance, as also to give us some light in our wanderings through the public streets on these dark nights.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 17, 1862.

CROWDED OUT.—Owing to the great length of the Governor's message, much local news is crowded out.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.—A synopsis of the message of the Governor, delivered to the Legislature on Monday, will be found on the first page.

The sum of $100,000 was sent from California by this steamer [illegible] for the relief of the suffering [illegible]

Bishop Lee of Delaware [illegible] the rebellion in his address [illegible]

Up to the [illegible] had been collected in San Francisco [illegible]

The steamer [illegible] the Nicaragua [illegible] to sail from San Francisco for San Juan del Sur on the 21st [illegible]

New Orleans advices to the 28th of August say the Federals are perfectly confident of their ability to hold the town against Breckinridge.

In Nicaragua the people are still excited about the report that the Federal Congress of the South will be sent to Nicaragua and other Central American States. They say they will resist their intrusion.

[illegible] looks at everything with [illegible] a hostilities would commence within twenty four hours. The French war ship [illegible] The authorities of the town refused to supply the French man with fresh provisions.

NEW PLAN OF THE WAR.—The New York papers of the 15th of August contain full accounts of the evacuation of the Peninsula by McClellan, which is generally admitted as a wise movement skillfully executed. Halleck's plan of concentration was cordially approved.

Ex-Governor Jim Stewart of Missouri is soldiering for the Union with General [illegible] Drunkard as he was, it would have been well for Missouri had he been her Governor instead of the traitor Jackson when the war broke out.

KENTUCKY.—The Kentucky Legislature is going right ahead with business. A bill for drafting has already been reported, and it is proposed to put into the hands of the Government a secret service fund of five millions. That indicates an unlimited confidence in the State authorities and a lively determination to crush the rebellion.

Demand Notes are steadily finding their way into circulation at par, in San Francisco. The dealers in Washington Market have signed an agreement to accept them who never offered. The Call says this example will be generally followed by business men throughout the city, and ultimately throughout the State, and of course this State will follow the example.

FROM WALLA WALLA.—We condense the following items from the Walla Walla Statesman:

A party has gone from Walla Walla to prospect for gold in the Blue mountains, twenty miles from that place.

Rev. Wm. Howard, formerly of Clackamas County, was killed near Day's camp, Granite creek, on the 7th, by being struck with a lever with which he was moving a large boulder from his mining claim.

A party of forty men have gone to prospect Boise river. Some prospecting has been done there and very favorable indications found.

Two gold quartz boulders were found in the mountains near Mormon Basin, thirty miles south of Auburn. They are valued at about $700 each.

FROM POWDER RIVER.—Mr. Henry Fuller, of Polk county, and well known to most of our citizens, arrived in the city night before last from the Powder river mines, where he was engaged in mining. He came down for the purpose of purchasing provisions enough to last him through the winter, and intends returning in a few days. Mr. F. exhibited several large specimens [illegible] There is no doubt that rich and extensive mines exist in that section of country, and an immense quantity of the precious metal will undoubtedly be taken out this fall and next spring.

[illegible] We are glad to see that our Senators and Representatives in the Legislature have taken [illegible] about establishing a Branch Mint in this city. It is certainly needed. It should be done, for it is extremely necessary.

RECORDER'S COURT.—His Honor, the Recorder, was not quite so fortunate yesterday in replenishing the City Treasury as he usually is. Three individuals, James Wilson, John Henry and G. W. Hanes, were arraigned on charge of being drunk and disorderly, and neither of them had enough to pay the required fine. They were therefore committed to the care of Marshal Grooms for the term of four days.

GEN. SHERMAN AS A PRACTICAL JOKER.—Gen W T Sherman has the reputation of being a taciturn, sour, morose curt sort of a man especially when in uniform The following story shows that there is a vein of humor about him. A Memphis correspondent, writing on the 29th, says:

Yesterday a bereaved patriarch applied to Gen Sherman to learn how he could reclaim his runaway slaves "I know of only one way, sir," replied the General, "and that is through the United States Marshal." The unsuspecting planter started in anxious pursuit of that officer, and was at last directed to Col. Hillyer's headquarters, where he asked

"Is this the United States Marshal?"

"No sir; the Provost Marshal."

"Where can I find the United States Marshal?"

"Have you business with him?"

"Yes, sir, I want my niggers." Gen Sherman says he is the proper person to apply to

"Oh yes," replied Col. Hillyer, who perceived the joke; "he undoubtedly is, so the law prescribes"

"Is he in town?"

"I don't know, but I suspect not."

"When do you think he left?"

"About a year ago, I fancy"

At last it dawned upon the planter's brain that since the United States officers were driven out and the National courts broken up, the Fugitive Slave Law is not in operation. He went back to General Sherman and inquired sadly if there was no other way of recovering his chattels

"None to my knowledge, sir"

"What can I do about it?"

"Well, sir, the law provided a remedy for you slaveholders in cases like this, but you were dissatisfied and smashed the machine If you don't like your own work, you'd better restore it, and set it running again Unless you do that very soon you'll have no need of a fugitive slave law"

THAT $38 BOUNTY.—Some discussion having arisen as to the meaning of a San Francisco dispatch to the effect that the War Department has authorized a bounty of $38, for volunteers, it is only necessary to say that a volunteer regiment is now being raised in San Francisco for service in Washington Territory, and the bounty referred to is paid for volunteers in that regiment

THE EXODUS TO EVADE THE DRAFT.—Eastern papers are full of accounts of persons endeavoring to escape to Europe, California and Canada, to avoid the draft, and of their arrest or stoppage by the local police or military authorities. In all the lake towns and cities there is the same eager rush to get over into Canada. For the benefit of these runaways, Provost-Marshals, with full powers, are being established in all the sea and lake ports.

TRAIN.—George Francis Train has been engaged by the proprietor of the Boston Commercial Bulletin to return to this country for the purpose of delivering a series of Union and war lectures. Train will arrive towards the end of September. The Bulletin announces a full report of Train's last speech in London, the bold exposition of which, it is thought, may have had something to do with his arrest. It was delivered at a secret meeting of the Brotherhood of St Patrick, in London.
